TO THE PUBLIC.

THE subscriber, after a lapse of time necessarily consumed in the preparation of his house, respectfully announces to the citizens of Alexandria, as well as the community at large, that he has taken for a term of years that noted and eligible establishment known by the name of the CITY HOTEL, and once occupied by Mr. Gadsby, whose distinguished abilities as a Publican gave it an eclat which the subscriber hopes to preserve by his unremitted exertions in affording to all those who may confer on him the favor of their patronage, genteel and comfortable accommodations. The subscriber deems it unnecessary to indicate the multiplicity of conveniences attached to the City Hotel, and will only submit a description to that portion of travellers who have so generally attested its numerous advantages.

PROPOSALS
BY BENJAMIN EDES & CO.
OF BALTIMORE,
For Publishing a New and Valuable Work, by Subscription, entitled,
An Universal Dictionary
OF Commercial Geography;

CONTAINING all that relates to the situation and extent of every commercial state in the world, and a comprehensive and correct account of their agriculture and products, their manufactures, fisheries and mines, and the commerce resulting therefrom—their laws, customs, tribunals and administrations of commerce—their land carriage and navigation; their banks and commercial companies; their monies, weights and measures; their exports and imports; their exchange and the balance of trade; their colonies, &c. &c. arranged in alphabetical order—From the French of J. Peuchet, author of the Dictionary of Police, of the Methodical Encyclopaedia, &c.

☞ The publishers have been at great expence in obtaining the only translation, revised and corrected by gentlemen of well known talents, which will make about 15 vols. 8 mo. containing 600 pages each, dedicated to the Merchants of the U. S. Copy right secured according to law.

The work now proposed to the public may be said to be a minature view of the commercial world, unfolding the commerce of every clime. It combines the experience of past ages with the trade of the present day. In the author's preliminary discourse and introduction, will be found a most interesting history of commerce from remote ages progressively until the publication of the work, together with the tables of the money of the different nations of the world; tables of the old and present weights, & measures of distance, surface, solids and capacity in France, adopted since the revolution, &c. &c. Therein all the intricacies and labyrinths of trade are brought into one view.

The high estimation in which the Commercial Geographical Dictionary is held in Europe, induces the publishers to cherish a hope that in their expectations of remuneration they will not be disappointed. They knew not of any work in the English language on the subject of which it treats, of so general importance.

Gentlemen acquainted with the real merits of the work will be highly gratified in seeing it in English dress, to effect which the publishers have not hesitated to encounter every obstacle, and brave every expense. They are determined that the work shall be executed in a style which shall not deteriorate the character of the American press.

CONDITIONS.

The work will make at least 15 large octavo volumes, containing 600 pages each, and printed on a new type and paper of a good quality

It will be delivered to subscribers bound in boards, at $3 for each volume, payable on delivery. To non subscribers the price will be enhanced.

It is expected one volume will be delivered each month from the commencement. A list of the patrons of the work will be added to the last volume.

☞ Subscriptions received at this office.

By order of the standing committee,

TRANSLATED
FOR THE FREEMAN'S JOURNAL.

Most Loyal inhabitants of the Island of Cuba!

Our gracious sovereign Don Ferdinand VII. and in his royal name the supreme junta of the kingdom has, through the medium of its secretary, directed to the deacon of the supreme council of Spain and the Indies, a royal decree, dated in the island of Leon, 30th January last. This decree, as soon as possible, shall be published in full, in compliance with his majesty's orders. In virtue thereof, it is resolved, that there be established a regency composed of five persons, selected out of those who compose the junta, and whereof one is to represent his majesty's dominions in America.

The whole authority and power exercised by the supreme junta is transferred to this council of regency, without limitation whatever.

The members appointed for this council shall remain in power until it be determined by the decision of the Cortes what sort of government shall be established.

The royal decree having been communicated to the council, it was adopted, and in compliance therewith, a royal order (which shall shortly be published) was issued for the information and observance of his majesty's subjects in America, and concludes as follows:

"Wherefore I command you all and every one of you, in your respective places, districts, and jurisdictions, to peruse this royal decree, to observe, accomplish, and execute; and to cause to be observed, accomplished and executed; and by your obedience to cause to be obeyed such orders as may be given by my council of regency for Spain and the Indies, which I have deigned to create; and I enjoin the right reverend archbishops and bishops; the chapters of metropolitan churches, cathedrals and colleges; the directors, vicars and all other ecclesiastics exercising ecclesiastical functions; also the superiors and directors of the regular orders and their members, in like manner to observe whatever may respect them in this my royal mandate. All of whom alike, in patriotic concert, are to concur with the political and military chiefs in preserving the peace of their respective departments; moreover, that the inhabitants may continue to give evidence to the world of the fidelity, attachment and love they profess to our holy religion and to my person, by due obedience to the supreme authority by which you are governed in my name, until more favorable opportunities enable the nation to determine upon the best means of frustrating and avenging the iniquitous invasion audaciously undertaken by the usurper.—Such is my will."

The installation of the council of the regency of Spain and the Indies, took place at the royal island of Leon, on the 30th of Jan. last.

The regency consists of the most serene Don Francisco Xavier Castanos, president, their excellencies Don Francisco de Saavedra, Don Antonio Escano, Don Miguel de Lardizabal y Uribe, and the R. Rev. Bishop de Orence Don Pedro de Quevedo y Quintano, (absent)

On the 14th of Feb. his Britannic majesty addressed his royal manifesto to the Hispano Americans, (which shall be forthwith published.) It begins as follows:

Scarcely had the regency received from the ex-government the authority with which it was invested, than it directed its attention to that immense and valuable portion of the empire. To communicate to it this great change; to explain the motives which have accelerated it; to proclaim the hopes which it entertains, and to manifest the principles which actuate the regency for the glory and happiness of those regions, have been the objects of its earliest care at this memorable epoch, and now it is about to accomplish them with the frankness and sincerity which never more than at present, in both hemispheres, should characterize the spirit of Spaniards.

Amongst the first cares of the regency a particular place is occupied by the celebration of the extraordinary Cortes, wherein are to assemble the representatives of America, conformable to the royal decree of the 14th Feb. as may appear by the sequel of the manifesto.

Those representatives of the council of the regency, are about to contribute with their zeal and their talents to the restoration and reform of the monarchy. They will establish in union with the representatives of the peninsula, a plan for the felicity and social perfection of those immense regions, by concurring in the execution of such a grand enterprize, they will acquire a glory which, were it not for the actual revolution neither Spain nor America could have ever expected. This congress shall be convened and will consolidate our hopes of redemption and future happiness.——The events of war may protract this great enterprize, but this very protraction, says the regency, affords an opportunity of giving to the approaching national congress, the complete representation of the vast empire whose destiny is confided to its zeal.

Returning now to the events of the war, I shall tell you that the superior junta of Cadiz, says, under date of the 28th Feb. that although it be certain that the enemy, by concentrating the main body of their forces at the defiles of Sierra Morena (defended by the residue of our army defeated at Ocana, and not yet recovered from that unfortunate reverse) they have broken thro' the weakest points, have occupied others, and have entered Andalusa; we have yet for our defence forty thousand men, independent of the strength of our natural position, and although they may boast occupying Seville, and other defenceless cities of Andalusia, and of proceeding towards the sea coasts, and after all meet with this disappointment, yet they have abandoned the greatest part of the places they had occupied, and the whole kingdom of Portugal, that of Gallicia, the principality of Asturias, Valencia, Murcia, Estramadura, together with all their fortified places, a great part of Leon, the Castiles, Andalusa, Arragon, and Catalonia are actually delivered from their tyrannical and detestable yoke. In all those provinces our existing armies are reinforced, others are forming and it may be affirmed, that the enemy by his movements, has done nothing more than to contribute to our energy and increase our forces, in order to make a more violent resistance.

The worthy general Blake appointed to the command of the central army, has organized at Guadix a respectable force which having been assisted by the regency with six millions of reals and four thousand muskets, together with the resources to be found in the kingdom of Murcia, fired with patriotism, will reduce the French who are in the kingdom of Grenada to the necessity of concentrating their forces, and standing on the defensive.

The army of the left reinforced by ten thousand Estramadurians collected under the Marquis de la Romana, forms a body of thirty six thousand combatants. The Lusitano anglo army, consisting of 60,000 men, co-operate, as we are assured, with Romana.

General Garcia is posted with twelve thousand men at the defiles of Gallicia, which better fortified than ever, and in possession of forty thousand muskets, has organized a force of twenty thousand men, and is arming more. The successes in Catalonia are so satisfactory, that on the 12th and 22d of January, the French beaten by the intrepid O'Donnell, were compelled to reconcentrate and fall back on Arragon.

The insurgents in the Castiles, Rioja and Alava, are very formidable, because being liberated from the French who advanced to Andalusa, they have only to contend with fifteen thousand who are distributed through the whole of that territory, and whereof ten thousand are conscripts frequently deserting. In Estramadura the patriots are very numerous. In fine, confidence is restored through all the provinces since we have armies commanded by the best generals. The French cannot paralize the arm of war by the partial occupancy of Andalusia. Their expectations have proven abortive; in their front, in their rear, on their flanks, and even from beneath their feet, they encounter the spirit of war raging with more violence than ever.

It is probable that the invasion of Andalusia will deliver Spain from the chains that were preparing for her by the ferocious usurper; and that ere four months elapse, the French forces may consider themselves fortunate if they be permitted to retrace their steps across the Sierra, as they have ignominiously done in Gallicia. Most happy inhabitants of Cuba, and most loyal subjects of Ferdinand VII. there is no cause for terror or despair. Our beloved monarch finds more glory in reigning over your hearts, than in contemplating the grandeur and extent of his dominions, which the perverseness of men has not hitherto been able to diminish. If the peninsula is to fall, let it be the inheritance of the pusillanimous and the diffident. Shall we not reserve for our beloved sovereign Ferdinand VII. the empire of these vast territories, and of millions of subjects, to whose happiness he will contribute? Shall we not preserve amongst us the holy religion of our ancestors, the sacred deposit of the laws, liberty, abundance, and happiness, and whatever else can constitute a great and independent nation? If such be the will of Providence, let Napoleon by violence and robbery become lord of the soil in the peninsula of Spain; but let Ferdinand VII. be sovereign of the Spaniards. The continent of America could, without inconvenience, admit the whole population of Spain; and our fellow subjects, with extended arms would hasten to receive their unfortunate but worthy brethren. But such a catastrophe will not occur, the magnanimity and perseverance of the Spaniards will not yield to the reverses of fortune; their resources are inexhaustible; their attachment to their religion, their country and their sovereign unshaken; and their virtue will be compensated by imperishable glory.

THURSDAY, MAY 24.

Letters from South America, say that a subscription was opened at Mexico some time since, for carrying on the WAR in Old Spain, when 20,000,000 dollars was subscribed in 4 hours.

From the Federal Republican.

Planters of Tobacco.—Permit me to ask you to pause and reflect. To continue to grow the article of tobacco on this continent under the present circumstances, will be productive of ruin in a great degree to all concerned. The quantity of tobacco already accumulated, from several crops being unconsumed, and remaining in the country is much greater than was ever known before, and occasioned to be so from the attempted degradation of the honest American merchants and their deprivation from trade, brought on by the caprice of the rulers in our government. If you will persevere in the growing of the article of tobacco, it must give addition to an inexhaustible stock already made for which there is no vent, and not likely to be opened soon to any extent. The French jacobinical tyrant Bonaparte rules the continent of Europe with arbitrary and uncontroled sway. He has clearly declared by his edicts and already practised actions that he means to exclude the import into the continent of Europe of all articles of luxury, as far as it is in his power; or at all events to exclude their free vendition on the continent of Europe, which precludes from you the prospect of getting rid of your tobacco, so as to give you, who make the article, any advantage. There may be an insidious mode of trade from this country to the continent of Europe to be enjoyed by men who must not say, that they are friends to those who cultivate our soil; or that they are friends to this country; it is self evident that they are not. Reflect that the article of tobacco has not been consumed to any extent since our restrictive arrangements commenced, as what cannot be obtained, must be done without. We are still the holders of that article, which might in a great degree have been regularly consumed. My views in this communication are towards saving the interests of a valuable part of this community—cease to cultivate the article of tobacco as rapidly as possible; and permit me to suggest that each possessor of tobacco at present, ought to hold it over for a price as far as it in his power. As necessity compels sales put forward to sale the seconds and most inferior of the first quality, as these qualities are most liable to decay from long keeping. The price to be obtained for inferior qualities of tobacco will be found to be proportionably the best.—My countrymen reflect, that the continent of Europe and our continent assimilate very much as to their varieties of climate, on which account we may be, and are virtually rivals in the natural product of soil. We ought to endeavour to act accordingly.—Cultivate to prevent importation, and for the supply of the islands. We ought to import from no country that does not allow us freely to be secure in our exports to them should we reach their ports in safety.

By the arrival yesterday of the schooner Playmate, from London, and ship Minerva from Liverpool, we have received London papers as late as the 29th March. The following is a summary account of all the intelligence they contain.

AMERICAN COMMERCE.

From various quarters, the hostility of Napoleon to American commerce, appears decidedly to increase; and the continental system of exclusion, with regard to British and colonial produce, was vigorously enforced.

London, March 25.

Denmark, it is stated, has seized and ordered for sale, all American vessels in its ports, and directed the proceeds to be paid into the royal treasury.

March 26.

According to letters from Paris, of the 17th, general Armstrong has demanded his passports, in consequence of the order for the seizure and sale of American vessels, which order was to be published on the next day.

Prussia has completely entered into Bonaparte's system, with respect to British commerce. Her ports are shut against all British and colonial produce.

Gottenburg, March 8.

A strong sensation has been excited here by intelligence received at Hamburg, under date of the 2d instant, announcing the sequestration of all American property in the ports of France, Holland, Spain and Naples. This information is contained in a letter from the minister for foreign affairs to Mr. Armstrong, and is inserted in the Leisle dar Borsen Halle.

March 18.

We were informed on the 15th of a circumstance, which, if true, is very curious, viz. That Bonaparte has been sounding the temper of the Swedish government, in regard to the exclusion of Americans from the ports of Sweden, convinced that so long as they are admitted, his "Continental System" cannot be carried into effect. Taken with his late measures towards America, the thing is probable. That Napoleon carries his hostility to colonial produce into full practice, will appear from the following article:

"Paris. March 17.

"The emperor and king has ordered the inspectors of the imperial kitchens, in future, not to use any other sugar than that of grapes."

THE IMPERIAL MARRIAGE.

The bride set off on the 13th for Paris. Napoleon was to proceed to Compiegne on the 23d, to wait for her arrival.

It is said, there will be a grand tournament in the manner of our ancestors, in the Champ de Mars, in which the illustrious empress will, with her own hands, distribute crowns and prizes to the conquerors.

The diamond which ornaments the hilt of Bonaparte's sword is worth 12 millions of francs, which is three times the value of the celebrated Orleans diamond.

The value of the jewels and nuptial ornaments which Napoleon has destined for his bride, are estimated at 16 millions of francs.

Sketch of the intended new empress of France: "in figure she is below the middle size; gracefully formed in the neck and shoulders, with a complexion of the most delicate whiteness; a nose somewhat inclined to the Roman; eyes of the most brilliant blue, and a profusion of shining flaxen hair, that reaches nearly to the ground; her hands and feet most delicately shaped; her lips are truly Austrian; however, when opened by a smile they discover a set of teeth, most beautifully arranged, and exquisitely white. I remember to have seen her own lovely aunt taken from her mother in just such a transitory blaze of beauty; joyfully expecting to fill a long established throne; and afterwards I saw her fall the victim to her subjects; on a scaffold!"

ENGLAND.

We do not find the prospects of a settlement with America to engage much attention in the English journals, and the debates in parliament are wholly destitute of information upon this subject.

A report of the probability of a rupture between Russia and France had been received in London on the 26th March; but it was discredited on the ground that Russia would not dare to engage in a conflict, when there could not be a remote expectation that Austria would be neutral.

A considerable fleet is immediately to assemble in Yarmouth, supposed to be destined for some enterprize of magnitude in the Baltic.

HOLLAND.

A treaty has been signed between king Louis and the emperor Napoleon, by which the existence of Holland is guaranteed.

SPAIN & PORTUGAL.

Our accounts in this country, direct from Spain, are later than those received in England. The prince of Neufchatel, (Berthier) had been nominated major general of the army of Spain, and the Duke of Dalmatia (Soult) had taken the title of major general to his catholic majesty.

The reinforcements for the operations against Portugal, amounting to about thirty thousand men, had occupied their appointed stations. The duke of Abrantes (Junot, who is to command) had left Burjos for Valladolid.

With regard to Portugal, a daily increasing solicitude pervades all classes.—Ministers we are told look for important despatches from lord Wellington, and from their anxiety to provide transports, it is obvious that they consider the evacuation of that country by our troops as an event neither improbable nor remote.

AUSTRIA.

It is reported at Hamburg that with the consent of Russia, a certain empire, (probably Turkey) is to undergo a very important change. It is also said that the archduke Ferdinand, brother of the empress of Austria, is soon to be united to a princess of one of the most illustrious houses in Germany.

An article from the banks of the Elbe states, that by a recent arrangement between France and Austria, the Ottoman Porte will be compelled to accede to the continental system, and exclude English vessels from all the ports in the Levant, &c. Prussia, it is said, has also been solicited to enter into an engagement, by which she will be compelled to assist Napoleon, in the event of another continental war, with twenty thousand men.

In consequence of a severe political letter published in Cobbett's Weekly Register, signed Francis Burdett, which was considered a breach of the privileges of the house of commons, the following resolutions were moved by Mr. Lethridge, which, after some debate, were postponed:

"1. That it be the opinion of this house, that a certain letter, signed "Francis Burdett," and published in Cobbett's Weekly Register of Saturday the 24th instant, is a libellous and scandulous publication, reflecting on the just rights and priviledges of this house."

"2. That sir Francis Burdett, Bart. having acknowledged himself the author of the said publication, has grossly violated the priviledges and insulted the dignity of this house."

Whilst this business was before the house the crowd in the lobby and avenues was so great as to require an additional force of 50 constables. It was imagined that some danger existed of the commitment of Sir Francis to the tower; and it is said he took leave of his friend Horne Tooke, and left town the next morning.

IN COMMON COUNCIL.

May 19, 1810.

The following resolution was moved and seconded:

"Resolved, That a committee be appointed to enquire into the expediency of providing a Public Warehouse for the reception and inspection of Tobacco, and that the same committee enquire into the situation of the public property, and endeavor to ascertain the probable expence that may attend the providing of a Warehouse for the above purpose, and report to Council.

And on the question shall the said resolution pass, the yeas and nays were—

Yeas—Messrs. Young, Sutton, Anderson, Collett, M'Knight, Rhodes.

Nays—Messrs. Preston, M'Kenzie, Nevitt, Butcher, Hope, Dean, Newton.

And negatived.

Ordered, That the following Bill be published for the information of the citizens.

A BILL

To prevent sinking of Wells for Privies.

BE IT ENACTED by the Common Council of Alexandria, That from and after the passing of this act, no Wells shall be dug or sunk for the use or to be used as a Privy; and if any person shall, after the passing of this act, sink any such Well, shall be fined a sum of Twenty Dollars; and the Superintendant shall have the said Wells filled up as other nuisances.

Section 2. AND BE IT FURTHER ENACTED, that all Wells heretofore used for Privies, within ten years from the passage of this law, shall be filled up, under the direction of the then Superintendant of Police, at the expence of the owners of the property.

BY LAST NIGHT'S MAIL.

NEW-YORK, May 21.

From Cadiz.—Capt. Trewilliger, sailed from Cadiz on the 18th of April, at which time every thing remained as stated by former arrivals. It was reported that 100,000 French troops were on their march from Seville towards Cadiz. Ten thousand more British troops were hourly expected. Twelve sail of British ships of the line, and eight or ten Spanish, with several frigates and gunbrigs, were in the Bay; together with about forty transports, some of which were receiving French prisoners for England.

We have received Cadiz Gazettes of the 10th of April, but they contain nothing.

We learn that general Moreau, through the intercession of the arch duke Charles, has been invited by Napoleon, to return to France. We believe this is a fact, but we do not believe the general will accept the invitation—he knows Bonaparte too well to have confidence in him.

We understand on the authority of a letter from Mr. Forbes, consul of the U. States at Hamburg, written at Copenhagen on the 3d of March last, "that by a royal order, privateering was immediately to recommence." There is therefore reason to fear that the trade of the U. States to the north of Europe will have been put in as perilous a situation as that to the other parts of the continent.

Valuable Property For Sale.

I WISH to sell my farm on Coan River in this county of Northumberland, state of Virginia, containing 700 acres; about 400 acres of which are covered with pine and oak timber of the first quality. The arable part of this land will, under a judicious system of cultivation, yield fine crops of Indian corn, wheat, rye, barley, hemp, flax and cotton, and the various kinds of artificial grasses; the pasture yielding wild onion and other natural herbage, affords, with the woodland, a fine range for sheep and horned cattle: This land is situate nearly equi-distant from Alexandria, Baltimore and Norfolk. From the city of Washington to the Bay there is not, on either side of the Potomac, a more valuable tract of land of equal dimension—the value of the timber, the richness of the soil, the facility with which its produce can be conveyed to three opulent commercial cities, will amply reward the exertions of the experienced and industrious farmer. It has several springs of excellent water; and the adjoining creek and river abound with fish, wild fowl and oysters.

The purchaser may be accommodated with the stock and farming utensils on easy terms. Amongst the stock is a small flock of about 100 fine wool sheep. A sample of their fleece has been sent to Philadelphia, where, from the fineness and softness of its staple, it will bring from 70 to 80 cents per pound, if proper care be taken of the sheep in winter: And by crossing this breed with Spanish Merino Rams, it is the opinion of many respectable farmers, that the wool produced from the crossed breed will be equally valuable, in every point, to that of the best Spanish sheep.

I will also dispose of a small piece of land about two and a half miles from town, being part of a tract known by the name of STUMP HILL:—It contains 12 acres, 9 of which are cleared and well enclosed: part of that which is cleared has produced luxuriant crops of clover forthree years successively. There are on it a small unfinished FRAME HOUSE, a HUT fit for negroes; some apple and peach trees; and a perpetual spring of good water. The situation is high and healthy.

Also a handsome convenient dwelling house now in the occupancy of Mrs. M'Kenna, with a good cellar, kitchen, smoke-house, stable &c. &c. It is situated in a healthy and agreeable part of the Town. The above described property is perfectly free from all incumbrance, and the title is unquestionable. Cash, or Bank stock of any of the Banks in the territory of Columbia and Baltimore, will be expected in part payment: a liberal credit will be given for the remainder. For further particulars apply by letter to the subscriber at the Bank of Alexandria.

Forty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, on the 16th of December last, negro DANIEL—he is 38 years old, 5 feet 10 or 11 inches high, tolerably black, high cheek bones, he had an opening between his front teeth having the appearance of one lost, remarkable round shoulders and slender waist—he is by profession a Baptist, has lost much of his religion, and is fond of talking on that subject—he has appeared to be very unwell for two or three years past and has done nothing: before that time he was a good hand to put up post and rail fence, and ditching, which he no doubt will engage in should he get a distance from home—he is good at all kinds of plantation work. It is believed he is still in the neighborhood of Alexandria where he has a wife, and is harbored by the negroes belonging, or who have lately belonged to the estate of Benjamin Dulany, Esq. and their connections.

I will give the above reward if secured in jail so that I get him again, and all reasonable expences if brought home

FOR SALE,

At the town of Occoquan, on the 26th day of May next, at Public Auction,

That valuable MILL SEAT,

late the property of Elisha Janney,

SITUATE in the said town of Occoquan. On this seite was erected, about eleven years ago, a spacious three story BRICK MILL HOUSE, which ever since has been occupied as a manufacturing mill, until about twelve months ago it was destroyed by fire—the stones and bricks of the former walls, and the iron work of the building are upon the spot, and would answer for a new mill, which might with these aids, be erected in time to grind the growing crop of wheat.

The advantages appertaining to this valuable property, which in the driest season never wants water, being furnished by the Occoquan river, are so generally known as not to need a particular enumeration: suffice it to state that it is situated in a healthy and flourishing little town at the Falls of the river, about 16 miles south of Alexandria, on the great stage road, leading north and south—in the heart of a wheat country—and has navigable water to the mill door, where vessels may come of sufficient burthen to carry 500 barrels of flour. With this valuable seat for water works of any description, there may be had about 250 acres of well timbered land, lying on the opposite side of the river.

For this property one-tenth of the purchase money will be required in hand, and the residue in three equal annual payments, with interest from the day of sale.

FOR SALE,

A valuable new MERCHANT MILL, in complete repair, with two pair of French burrs for wheat and one pair of Allegany stones for corn. There is machinery of every description for conveying the wheat into the waggon and from the packing with a very small portion of manual labor. It may be tended with less than half the labor in common mills. It is situate on the main turnpike road leading from Ashby's Gap to Alexandria, on a good stream of water as any in the parts. It is capable of making 30 barrels of flour every twenty four hours;—it is also expected the new paved road will come directly by it, which will make the carriage of flour to Alexandria short, cheap and easy.

Any person wishing to purchase will do well to make immediate application, as possession will be given the first of July. It is presumed that any person wishing to purchase would want to see the premises, where the terms will be made known by
